NUMB. 453

No. 451.

Since our last arrived a Mail from Holland.

LETTERS from Constantinople say, that the Persian Ambassador having had his Audience of Leave of the Grand Signior with Abundance of Careless and Presents, was just upon his Return Home, and that he was to be followed immediately by a solemn Embassy which the Grand Signior is sending to the Sophi Kouli Kan, with the Ratification of the said Treaty. The Russian is not directly included in the said Treaty, 'tis certain, that by one of the Articles, that Court is confirm'd in the Possession of the Provinces conquered in Georgia, upon the Coasts of the Caspian Sea. The Conclusion of this Peace, added to the Report, (whether true or false) that the Bodziac Tartars had made an Incurision into the Ukraine, and carried off Thousands of Slaves, has raised the Spirits of the Turks to such a Degree, that they seem at present to have nothing so much in their Mouths as War. Mean time, when 'twas least expected, M. Dohman, the Emperor's Minister, has had an Audience of the Kaimacan, in which, 'tis said, he made some Overtures for an Accommodation between the Porte and Russia. Upon this Occasion, we are told, he assumed the Character of his Imperial Majesty's Ambassador, and the Kaimacan gave him to understand, that he should shortly have an Audience of the Grand Signior.

The Spanish Ambassador at the Hague has declared, that the News inserted in some of the Foreign Gazettes, that the usual Commissions and Dispatches at Naples, were no longer signed by and in the Name of the King of the Two Sicilies, is absolutely false. And the King of Sardinia's Envoy Extraordinary at the same Place, is no less surprized, to find it affirmed in those Gazettes, that the King his Master, was to marry the Princess of Hesse Rheinfels Rothenburg, Sister of the late Queen of Sardinia; which Piece of News was the more absurd, because 'twas published at that very Instant, when the King of Sardinia's Marriage was concluded with the Princess Elizabeth Theresa of Lorain. Mean time the Sardinian Minister at Vienna, has sent back the Express he received from Turin, with the Consent of the Emperor, the Duke of Lorain, and the Dutchess Dowager his Mother, to the said Marriage; and 'tis said, that the Princess Elizabeth will very soon set out from Lunenburg for Turin, by the Way of Vienna. They add, that when the Dutchess of Lorain is brought to Bed, the Emperor has agreed to add 20,000 Crowns to her Pension.

The 15th of November, O. S. being the Day appointed for the annual Meeting of the Deputies of the States of Lower Austria, they walk'd on Foot to the Imperial Palace, and then accompanied the Emperor to the Chapel of the Court: From thence, after Divine Service, the Emperor returned to his own Apartment, and after a short Stay, he went to the great Hall of the States, where seating himself on his Throne, the Count John Frederick de Seilern, Vice Chancellor of Austria, in the Absence of the Count de Sirtzendorff, the Great Chancellor, deliver'd the Emperor's Demands and Proposals to the Marshal of the States who were before-hand repaired to the Hall, and at the same time made the following Speech to them.

His Imperial and Catholick Majesty, Emperor of the Romans, King of Spain, Hungary and Bohemia, Archduke of Austria, our most Gracious Sovereign Lord, assures his Loyal States of his Grace and Good-Will, &c. and is glad to see so numerous an Appearance of them at this Assembly.

All the World is Witness of the Zeal and Magnanimity with which is Imperial Majesty has labour'd for re-establishing the Peace of Europe, by the Pains he has taken to remove the many Difficulties that seem'd to oppose it, and by even sacrificing his own Interests to obtain it.

The Divine Providence has given a Blessing to his Imperial Majesty's Fatherly Care: And Affairs are now brought to such a Point, that most of the Articles stipulated in the Conventions which have been made, have already been put in Execution, and the rest will likewise be performed without Delay; so that there's all the Reason in the World to hope, the general Peace will be restored, not only in the Empire, but in the Hereditary Dominions of his Imperial Majesty.

Yet Things are so circumstanced, that 'tis indispensibly necessary to keep up a proper Number of Forces standing, in order for the more sure attaining to the End so much desired.

Therefore his Imperial Majesty could not avoid imparting his most gracious Intentions and Desires to his Loyal and Obedient States, by virtue of the Demands hereunto annexed.

And as his Faithful States have always, and upon every Occasion, given authentick Marks of their Loyalty and their Zeal, his Imperial Majesty hopes, that they will now act upon the same Principles, and with all their Power second his Intentions, by taking a speedy Resolution, and such a one, as may be productive of real Advantage to the Country.

This Speech being ended, the Count de Seilern deliver'd to the Deputies the Memorial, containing his Imperial Majesty's Demands, which are much the same with those of last Year. And the Emperor himself took that Opportunity to assure the Assembly, in a very tender and affectionate Speech, how sensible he was of the Zeal and Fidelity of the States, and how much he was engag'd to them for their Affection.

The Count de Harrach, Hereditary Master of the Horse of Austria, as well as Marshal of the States, return'd an Answer in their Name, wherein, 'He thank'd his Majesty for his Goodness in calling them together, and assured him, that notwithstanding their Province had suffered severely by the Overflowing of its Rivers, &c. they would not fail to give him fresh Proofs of their Zeal, by taking his Imperial Majesty's Demands into speedy Consideration, and by granting every thing in their Power for the Defence of their Country, and for enabling the Emperor to keep the present Number of Troops on foot, being sensible of the Necessity of it for defence of their own, as well as of the Hereditary Countries, and convinced that his Majesty was heartily desirous of giving Ease in due time to their dear Country, which by his Majesty's own Confession had exerted its utmost Efforts upon all Occasions.

The Emperor having afterwards admitted some of the States to kiss his Hand, return'd to his Apartment, as did the States to their own House, where they opened his Imperial Majesty's Demands, which 'tis said amount to 4 Millions of Florens, besides 600,000 Florins by way of Free Gift. This Speech was to have been made by the Count de Sirtzendorff the Great Chancellor of Austria; but he happen'd to be indisposed. 'Tis true indeed, there was no mention made either in the Vice Chancellor's or the Emperor's Speech, of a War with the Turks; but nothing can be inferred from thence so as to conclude it ever the nearer or farther off.

As to the Affairs of the Protestant Religion in Hungary, the Emperor has signified his Pleasure, that he will not suffer any Memorial to be presented to his Court hereafter by the Protestants in a Body, but such private Persons as think themselves injur'd, shall be at Liberty to apply to Court in the usual Manner.

The Emperor has actually sign'd the Marriage Contract between the Princess Elizabeth, eldest Sister of the Duke of Lorain, and the King of Sardinia.

We are assured from Dresden, that the King of Poland, as Elector of Saxony, has lately sign'd a Treaty with the King of Great Britain, as Elector of Hanover, for renewing the Treaty of Alliance sign'd at Dresden in 1731, between his Britannick Majesty and the late King Augustus II. This Treaty confirms the Hereditary and Perpetual Union made in 1687, between the Electoral Families of Saxony and Hanover. — The Treaty which it renews is to be met with in the Collection of Treaties in 4 Volumes 8vo. sold by D. Brown and F. Clay without Temple-Bar.

Mr. Finch the British Minister arrived at Stockholm the 13th ult. O. S. had a long Conference on the 15th with the Senator the Count de Horn, and was to have his Audience of the King of Sweden in a Day or two.

On the 20th ult. at Night they had another very furious Storm at Hamburg, the Wind at N. which did a vast deal of Damage, and drove the Water again into the Warehouses and Cellars of the lower City; and a great many Wrecks of Ships were seen floating on the Elb. — The Deputies of that City set out on the 22d for Hanover to execute a certain Commission there, and to wish the King a happy Voyage to Great Britain.

The News from Hanover that the Baron d'Erff, who was formerly the King of Great Britain's Minister at the Court of Vienna, had with all his Family embraced the Roman Catholick Religion to enter into the Emperor's Service, appears to be a silly, groundless Story; for this Baron has not embraced the Roman Catholick Religion, nor has he any need to turn for the Sake of entering into the Service of his Imperial Majesty; because 'tis publicly notorious that a great many Protestants hold Offices both Civil and Military in the Emperor's Service.

They write from Leghorn, that the Captain of the French Ship which landed Baron Theodore there, is put under an Arrest at the Suit of the French Consul, for going to one of the Harbours of the Isle of Corsica belonging to the Malecontents, contrary to an Order of his most Christian Majesty, which forbids all French Vessels to touch at any Port in the Isle of Corsica, but what belongs and is subject to the Republick of Genoa.

'Tis said that Orders are issued from the French Court for the Evacuation of Triers, Philipsburg and Kehl before the End of this Month.

The Spaniards have Advice from their Settlement at Paraguay in the West Indies, that in May 1735, the Indians of Ingris enter'd the Jesuits Church there while Mass was celebrating, dragged the Priest from the Altar, and shot him with Arrows, and that afterwards they cut off the Head of that called the Miraculous Image of our Lady of Taquica, and then set Fire to the Church and burnt it to the Ground.

His Excellency Horace Walpole, arrived last Saturday se'nnight from Hanover at the Hague, to resume his Functions as Ambassador, and was complimented the next Day by the Ambassadors and the Foreign Ministers, by the Lords of the Government of Holland, and by a great Number of other Persons of Distinction.

The Corpse of the late Pensionary Slingeland, was interred last Friday se'nnight with very great Pomp, as was that of the Baron de Boetzlaar on Monday last. The Pensionary was well the Day before he died, and had been at Court; so that his Death was sudden, and not the Effect of the Gout flying up to his Stomach, of which he was always in Danger. As for the Baron, who died three Days after the Pensionary, he had been sick for some time; and the famous Professor Boerhaave, went from Leyden to attend him. The Death of these two great Men, who bore the chief Sway in all the Domestick Affairs of the Seven Provinces, is like to be attended with great Changes. They talk at the Hague, of 5 or 6 Persons already, for one of them to succeed the Pensionary, whose Death was notified the same Day it happened, to all the Lords of the Regency, as well as to the respective Towns of the Province of Holland, by the College of the Deputies of the States; and some Foreign Ministers sent Expresses to give Advice of it to their Courts. The Dutch reckon they have sustain'd so great a Loss by his Death, that they say nothing can be a suitable amends to their State, but the Birth of a young Prince, for whom they have fix'd their Eyes on the PRINCESS OF ORANGE.

There was a Debate in the Assembly of the States of Holland on Saturday last, relating to the Person who is to officiate as Grand Pensionary during the Interim. The Town of Dort pretended to have the Right of naming that Person, and the College of Nobles declared the Right of nominating to be only in them, and cited several Examples to prove their Claim. It was at last concluded in Favour of the said College, and M. Obdam, as first of the Nobles, is to supply that Place till there shall be a new Pensionary chosen. The said States resumed their Assembly sembly this Day, and have under Consideration, whether the present Juncture requires an extraordinary Assembly to be called for the chusing a Grand Pensionary, or whether that Point should be deferred till the ordinary Meeting in March next. His Excellency Mr. Walpole arrived here on Saturday last. This Day about Noon the Royal Yachts, with their Convoy commanded by the Right Honourable Sir Charles Wager, arrived at Helvoetsluys, and a Messenger who came over with them, is gone on to Hanover with Letters for his Majesty.

L O N D O N.

Last Saturday William Bridges of Pall-mall, Esq; was married at Oxford Chapel to Mrs. Weston, Relict of the late George Weston, Esq;

Yesterday George Newton of Ware in Hertfordshire, Esq; was married at Conduit-street Chapel to Miss Clifton, one of the Daughters of George Clifton of Stafford, Esq;

Last Friday died at his House at Old Windsor Thomas Rogers, Esq; a Gentleman possessed of an Estate in the County of Berks.

The same Day 11 Sailors belonging to the St. Peter of Amsterdam from Cadiz, the great Ship that was cast away on the Coast of Sussex the 24th of last Month, richly laden with Spanish Wool and Pieces of Eight, came to Town from Lewis, to make Complaint of the Barbarity of the Country People, who came down upon them, and in Defiance of all the Opposition which they and the Custom-house Officers could make, plunder'd and carried off great Quantities of their Cargo, whereof otherwise they could have saved the best Part. A most inhuman Custom this; and strongly prevalent all along the Coasts, that instead of affording Relief to their fellow Creatures in Distress, they should at that Instant of Time spoil and rob them of what little the more merciful Waves throw them back again: But we hear that a Bill will be offered at the Meeting of the Parliament, for making the same Felony.

The Spanish Ambassador's Lady the Countess de Montijo, and the Dutchess Dowager of Wharton, &c. will, 'tis said, shortly embark for Bilbao, on their Return to Madrid.

A rich Equipage is finished for his Grace the Duke of Hamilton and Brandon, who is soon to be married to Miss Spencer of Grosvenor's Square.

Last Friday Samuel Duncombe was convicted by the Rulers of the Watermens Company before Justice Nicholas, for working in a Boat and carrying Passengers by Water on the Lord's Day, not being licensed so to do, and he not having Sufficient to make a Distress for the Penalty, was committed to the House of Correction for 14 Days.

Last Night the Corpse of Mr. Kelly, formerly belonging to the Six Clerks Office, was carried from his House in Chancery-lane, and interred in St. Dunstan's Church, Fleet-street, in a very handsome Manner.

Last Week died at his House in Gerrard-street, the Rev. Mr. William Davis, Minister of Llewelen in the County of Denbigh.

A few Days ago died Mr. Maybank, Clerk of the Stables to his Majesty; and a Domestick belonging to James Lumley, Esq; Avenor and Clerk Marthal, is appointed to succeed him.

This Day will be recalled at the Pay Office in Broad street the following Ships, viz. Spyee Sloop, Princess Amelia, Alborough, Deptford, Warwick, Buckingham, Orford, Litchfield, Salisbury, Sheerness, Spence Sloop, Newcastle, Pearl, Diamond, Fox, Blandford, Terrible Sloop, Scarborough, Lively, Portland, Salamander, and Argyle.

On Saturday last died at Greenwich, William Bousfield, Esq; Major of the Train of Artillery, aged 76: He served with great Honour under his Grace the Duke of Marlborough in all the Campaigns in Flanders. He would never suffer any Person to reflect on that great General (even in the last 4 Years of Queen Ann) without calling him to account for so doing. He was at the Battle of the Boyne, and chief Engineer at the taking of Vigo, and several other Expeditions. But it may suffice to say, he was a brave Officer, a good Englishman, a good Friend, and a very good Relation.

Captain William Collier, Commander of the Fubbs Yacht, died likewise at Greenwich on Saturday last of the Gout in his Stomach.

On Saturday last Bridget Casey otherwise Mills, the Sister of Thomas White otherwise Casey, who robbed Mr. Godde the Sadler, of his Gold Watch, and was rescued in Hemings's Row by 16 People, of which the said Bridget Casey was one, was committed to Newgate by Col. De Veil, for picking the Pocket of Miss Sparrow, coming out of Drury-lane Play-house on Friday Night last, of a fine Snuff Box, and two Handkerchiefs of about 5 or 6 Pounds Value.

The same Day one William Crewdson was committed by the same Gentleman to Newgate for feloniously stealing two Pair of Stockings out of the Shop of Mr. Thomas Collins, taken upon him as he run away with them.

It is thought that the Dispute about the Place of Matron to Christ's Hospital, Vacant by the Resignation of Mrs. Read, will lie between the Widows Castell and Smith. The latter is the Daughter of a Merchant of this City, and the Relict of Mr. Smith, a Bookfeller in Pater-noster-Row, who printed the Works of Bishop Beveridge. She is a Person of known Sobriety, Ingenuity, and good Behaviour, who is intirely destitute; having been left in indifferent Circumstances, by Means of unavoidable Losses in Trade, with a Family to bring up. The other Gentlewoman is the Widow of a worthy Clergyman; but as she has a good Annual Provision already, and as it is known to be the general Rule of the Governors of the Hospital, to give Preference to the Children and Widows of Freemen of London, 'tis hoped, that so good a Rule will not be departed from on this Occasion.
